New suite designs are available at The Station

MAY 15, 2012 | Posted in DEVELOPMENTS, ONTARIO | Tags: brandy lane homes, the station

We just got word from a little bird that The Station made a tweak to a floorplan.

What kind of tweak? The kind that gets you brand new one bedrooms suites. The new suites are 620 and 643 square feet with a balcony or terrace. Both are priced at $309,990 and once you factor in their $10,000 discount incentive, that's a limited time price of $299,990.

The Station has been on our radar for awhile now and will be on there for some time to come. We'll be intimately following the construction process at the Brandy Lane Homes development, publishing a classic "Dig to Done" series on our blog that will track construction from the start to finish. Expect plenty of amazing action shots while learning about the finer points of condo construction.

We'll have more info on that soon, but in the meantime find out how to get the full scoop on the new suites here...
